Geophysical Research Letters

AN AGU JOURNAL

Aims and Scope. Geophysical Research Letters publishes high-impact, innovative, and timely research on major scientific advances in all the major geoscience disciplines. Papers are communications-length articles and should have broad and immediate implications in their discipline or across the geosciences. GRL maintains the fastest turn-around of all high-impact publications in the geosciences and works closely with authors to ensure broad visibility of top papers.

Publication Charges. The publication charge income received for Geophysical Research Letters helps support rapid publication, allows more articles per volume, makes possible the low subscription rates, and supports many of AGU's scientific and outreach activities. Publication charge information can be found here: <http://publications.agu.org/author-resource-center/>.

To encourage papers to be written in a concise fashion, there is an excess length fee. For Geophysical Research Letters the fee is assessed only on the equivalent of more than 12 publication units. The excess length fee does not apply to review articles, and the editor may waive the fee on a limited number of concisely written papers that merit being longer. There is no charge for color in any format.

Strahan and Douglas find that levels of ozone-destroying chlorine are declining, resulting in less ozone depletion. Image credit: NASA.
